

Abstract

Nowadays Machine Learning is leading trend. You can come across the theme in many positive contexts, one of them is marketing.

I created portal, which is considered to be a great option for restaurants for improvement marketing, customer satisfaction level and time scheduling, also it represents real needs of customers.

Though, I have to explain, that my motivation, while choosing the subject, was not only curiosity and interest in making intelligent system, but also to make something really new for Georgian business and not only for Georgia. My motivation was to build something that would bring benefits to companies.

In result, I got a system, which is clean, flexible, easily operated and smart. In other hand more satisfied users equals to bigger income.
